

5 Reasons not to miss Secutech Vietnam

“There is a wide variety of products, and I have received consultations from exhibitors with plenty of information. The exhibition helps us a lot to look for new business partners and suppliers as well as to catch up with the industry’s development. The level of technology has advanced compared to previous years, with a wide variety of models.”

Vu Van Long, Director, APT Valve, fire equipment distributor

Profit from Vietnam’s strong fundamentals and robust building demands at the leading security hub

www.secutechvietnam.com

Secutech Vietnam aims to grow with the ever expanding urban environment in Vietnam. In 2019, the event will deliver more technologies and solutions focused on smart buildings and add to the success of previous editions in the fields of security and fire safety.

What to expect at Secutech Vietnam 2019?

As one of the fastest-growing markets among ASEAN countries, Vietnam is home to a surging amount of business opportunities with large demands for security, IoT and fire safety systems and solutions.

The booming economy in Vietnam is driven by various different factors, including foreign direct investment, property development and country development. With the CPTPP (Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans-Pacific Partnership) coming into effect by the end of 2018, Vietnam guarantees a more welcoming business and investment environment.

To answer the leading project demands and connect suppliers with the right business sectors, Secutech Vietnam 2019 will focus on the top vertical segments in the country.

“CP Plus has participated in both Secutech India and Thailand, but this is our first time exhibiting at Secutech Vietnam and in the country. Exhibiting here is very important for us to showcase our brand and make people aware of our company. We are satisfied with the exhibition this year because we were able to connect with customers.”

Aman Arora, Vice President – Sales (Asia), CP PLUS, Singapore

“The scale of the fair is big. There are a diverse range of products and innovative technologies. I am mainly looking for information on fire alarm notifications and security camera products. I also visit this exhibition to keep updated on new products and solutions which can serve the projects that I am involved in. I will certainly visit the show again next year.”
